READING COMPREHENSION

Text 1> The Three Friends

Tom, Jack, and Harry were three best friends who loved to play basketball together. Tom was tall, but Jack was taller, and Harry was the tallest of the three. They practiced every day after school to improve their skills.

Tom was a fast player, but Jack was faster. However, Harry was the fastest on the team. He could run from one end of the court to the other in just a few seconds. Despite his, Tom was the most accurate when it came to shooting, while Jack was the strongest player and could easily push through the defense.

One day, they entered a local basketball tournament. It was the most important game of their lives. They played against the best team in the town.

Although their opponents were bigger and more experienced, Tom, Jack, and Harry worked together and played better than they ever had before.

In the end, they won the game and the championship trophy. It was the happiest moment for the three friends, and they realized that while one might be taller, faster, or stronger, the key to their success was team work.

Text 2> The Best Day Ever

Emily had always dreamed of visiting the amusement park that was said to be the most exciting in the country. One summer, her parents surprised her with tickets to visit the park. Emily was the happiest girl in the world!

When they arrived, the park was even bigger and more color full than she had imagined. The first ride they went on was the Ferris wheel, which gave them the highest view of the entire park. From the top, Emily could see all the rides and attractions below.

Next, they tried the roller coaster, which was the fastest and most thrilling ride in the park. Emily screamed with joy as they zoomed around the sharp turns and steep drops. It was the most fun she had ever had on a ride.

For lunch, they ate at a restaurant known for having the best burgers and fries in the park. Emily thought the food was the tastiest she had ever eaten. After lunch, they went on more rides and played games, winning the largest stuffed bear Emily had ever seen.

At the end of the day, as the sun set and the light soft he park began to glow, Emily declared that it was the best day of her life.

She couldn't wait to tell all her friends about the most amazing adventure she had ever experienced.
